MONTPELIER

A. H. Templeton Has Sold His Store to J. L. Bowman of New York.

A. H. Temple has sold his store on State street to J. L. Bowman of New York, who has taken possession. The deal was closed Monday evening, although practically completed a month ago before the outbreak of polio. Mr. Temple has not decided upon his plans. He carried about $15,000 stock of goods. Mr. Bowman has been resident buyer for several western firms with offices in New York. Preceding that he was associated with a large dry goods firm in St. Louis, Mo., traveling through the west for it. He sold his interests a year ago after recovering his health in New York. Mr. Temple has been in business here since a youth, first with his father, then with C. D. Mather, and after the Union block fire, by himself, during the last year of which he has run a ready-to-wear women's and children's store.

Mrs. C. E. Chandler left this morning for Middlebury, where she was called to attend the funeral of a relative.

County Game Warden E. S. Newcomb, who has been looking after some work in Barre and Montpelier, went to his home in Waterbury to-day.

Phil D. Hornbrook received burns on his hands Sunday while lighting the gas stove in his home on Winter street and it is the wonder of those who have visited the home that the accident was not more serious. It seems that enough gas had leaked from the burner, while Mr. Hornbrook was preparing to light it, so that an explosion followed the application of the match with the result that the oven door was blown off and Mr. Hornbrook's hands were burned, although not deeply. Mrs. Hornbrook, who was near, escaped injury.

Miss Etta Graves of Waterbury visited Monday in the city.

Mrs. George Clouston of the Tenney office is visiting in Manchester, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bailey, who have been visiting here for 10 days, left Monday evening for their home in St. Paul, Minn.

REVOLUTION IF DEFEATED.

Germans Would Go on Idea They Had Been Deceived.

New York, July 17.—A sweeping victory by the entente allies, sufficient in its effect to arouse the German people to a realization that they have been deceived, is the only thing that will bring about a revolution and the overthrow of the Hohenzollerns, according to Prof. Herman Feernau, a German journalist, and author of "J'accuse," a pamphlet published in Switzerland at the beginning of the war and suppressed by that government. Feernau, now a political refugee in Switzerland, is quoted in an interview obtained by the Switzerland correspondent of the Ruskoye Slovo, the text of which was received here yesterday by the official French bureau of information, cabled from Paris.

"I consider a revolution in Germany possible only in event of a sweeping military victory by the allies," Feernau is quoted as saying. "The fortress of the Hohenzollerns is impregnable in appearance only, and it may crumble to pieces at an unexpected moment. The Socialists have been deceived, as have all others in Germany, by a continuity of official lies since the beginning of the war, when the German government announced a French airplane raid on Nuremberg and that Russian troops had violated the frontier.

"Later on the Socialists learned they had been deceived, but they had not the courage to change their attitude. The Socialist party in Germany is, moreover, a big capitalist business. They have twenty-five million marks invested in various enterprises, and they control several thousand officials and employees. The Social Democrats prefer to lose their honor rather than their money.

"On Aug. 2, 1914, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg called all the Socialist leaders in Germany into conference, and he told them bluntly, 'Either you will be with us or we shall destroy your organizations.'

"The Socialists decided to support the government and continue their business. 'There is no doubt,' the interview continues, 'that the repression in Germany of any popular movement will be attended by terrible results, and the revolution will be the bloodiest that the world has ever witnessed. This revolution, however, will only come after a stinging defeat, as only then will the people of Germany be sufficiently indignant against the Hohenzollerns and the military caste.'

There Is a Difference

even in humble things. For instance, you feel all dolled up and on a vacation when you drive to the creamery in one of our new Express Wagons, and if you have farm produce to sell it makes your trip a pleasure to come in in a nice new wagon. We have a nice variety of all kinds: Light, Medium and Heavy. Some finished in natural wood and trimmed with genuine Spanish leather. Come and see.

GRAND CIRCUIT OPENS.

Soggy Ground Made Fast Time Impossible at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Half-mile campters stepped into the limelight at the opening of the grand circuit racing season at the North Randall track yesterday afternoon and followers of the trotters and pacers who supported the favorites were a crest-fallen lot.

A heavy rain soaked the track and held up proceedings for more than an hour, making it late before the last heat of the fourth event was raced. As a result of the weather conditions the track was slow and the going bad, particularly for the pacers.

The Edwards, 2:10, $3,000 pacing stake, the feature of the card, went to Col. Armstrong, a half-mile and an outsider, who was given a hard fight by A Game of Chance. The two finished neck and neck in the final heat, the judge's decision being necessary to distinguish the winner. Loyal W., the favorite, failed to finish in the money.

The Forest City Sweepstakes for 2-year-old trotters was a walkaway for Arrow Rock, piloted by McMahon, while Miriam City took second money of the $2,500 stake. The best time, 2:13½, was fast when the condition of the track is considered.

The Woodman, another two-lap star, took the 2:10 trot in straight heats, while Box R., who also has been campaigning with the two rounds, took the 2:06 pace after a hard battle with Knight of Strathmore. Young Todd, the favorite, got fourth money.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Don't miss the big closing out sale of Mr. Fitts' children's shoes at Shea's this week.

Henry King in "The Power of a Girl," a five-reel drama, at the Bijou to-day.—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Ahern returned this morning to their home in Burlington, after passing a few days with friends here.

Ira K. Miller and his son, Merle Miller, of Waynesboro, Pa., are passing several days at Hotel Barre while here on a buying trip among the quarries and manufacturers of the Barre district. Father and son make up a prominent Pennsylvania retail monument firm, Miller & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Horrigan of Pittsburg, Pa., who are on a honeymoon trip through New England, are passing several days at Hotel Barre. Mr. Horrigan is a member of the well known monument retailing firm of Campbell & Horrigan of Pittsburg and during his stay here he and his bride have been interested visitors among the quarries and cutting plants.

Mrs. Margaret Cayhuc, a former resident of Barre, has returned to her home after having been called here by the death of her mother, Mrs. Ellen R. Frenier of Washington street. Mrs. Cayhuc is now a resident of Hartford, Conn. Other relatives of the deceased who have returned to their homes are: William Frenier of Newport, R. I., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hayes of Lawrence, Mass., and John Daley and family of Burlington.

The following item from a Burlington morning newspaper, concerning a former resident of Barre, will be of interest locally: "Miss Mary Crowley of Essex Junction, who was injured in the trolley car crash on the Lower road Wednesday night, is getting on as well as can be expected. Her right arm is in splints, as she sustained a fractured wrist. The ligaments in her arm were also badly strained so that she is unable to move her fingers. She was a passenger on the car headed for Winslow."

A valuable piece of Plainfield realty figured in a transaction consummated to-day when the Perkins farm, so called, in Perkinsville, became the property of Harry Peduzzi of Barre and Rizeri Lambert of Detroit, Mich. The property was sold through the D. A. Perry Real Estate agency for Tonsant Abare, the present owner and occupant, who succeeded H. P. Hinman of this city in ownership of the farm. The property is known as one of the most productive farms in the township and has been actively sought by prospective farmers. It comprises 125 acres and the deal involved upward of $6,000. Mr. Peduzzi, who was formerly engaged as a granite cutter in Barre, recently returned to this city from Detroit, where he was employed as a machinist for some years. The purchasers expect to occupy the property within a short time.

Wholesale poisoning of people who patronized a spring near the ruins of the Wells-Lamson plant at North Barre was one of the results of an incident which came to light yesterday when amateur agriculturists living in the north end told of procuring from the spring the water used in a paris green mixture calculated to knock stiff a myriad of potato bugs which infected their garden. It is evident that the gardeners, in dipping water from the spring to the receptacle containing the bug mixture, were somewhat careless, but grains of the arsenic composition undoubtedly slipped into the spring, for a number of persons felt the effects. Among them were a well known local truckman and a contractor, who dismounted from their teams to partake of the waters in the cooling spring. Pedestrians experienced similar after-effects and soon after an inquiry had been set on foot it developed that the bug killers had obtained from the spring the water used in mixing the vile brew which figures so conspicuously in every well-regulated campaign against the garden pest.

For delivering the blow that felled Paul Plaisted somewhere in Depot square on the night of July 7, Allan B. Gale of Barre appeared before Magistrate H. W. Scott in city court last night and acknowledged a breach of the peace offense. The judge imposed a fine of $5 and costs, which the respondent paid.

The halo of mystery which hedged about the head of Plaisted, who claimed to have been struck down by an unknown foe, was cleared away when Officer John S. Murley, acting under instructions from Grand Juror William Wishart, brought Gale to police headquarters. In straight-forward fashion he told of an argument indulged in by him and Plaisted and said he struck the latter with his fist. Plaisted, he averred, struck his head on a stone when he took the count. The respondent also denied running away, and declared that it was he who picked up the prostrate Plaisted, carried him to the station platform and bathed a bruise on his head, adding that people who gathered soon after this move put him down as an innocent bystander and so he let the suspicion stand.

Clement McMahon, who recently completed his duties in the Red Cross Pharmacy, leaves to-night for Plymouth, Mass., where he will visit with relatives for a few weeks.

Private Dennis V. Wells, who is connected with the coast artillery corps at Fort Barranca, Fla., is in the city, having been summoned here by the illness and death of his mother, Mrs. E. G. Wells of East street.

Notice: Will the ladies of the Barre Sewing Club for the Allies please send all finished garments as soon as possible to the home of Mrs. J. C. Morrison, 6 Laurel street, so as to finish this consignment and have it shipped at an early date?

Ladies of the Presbyterian church willing to help clean the church are requested to meet there Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Supper will be served and each lady is asked to bring something for same. Kindly need no other invitation to help in this work.

Unless there is something more diverting to occupy the attention of the city fathers this evening it is probable that the city council will resume its discussion of the trolley franchise, which was tabled last week after an animated discussion in which every member was privileged to have his say. Undoubtedly pressure is being brought to bear upon the council for a decision, as the matter has actually hung fire for nearly two years, during which time the traction company, according to the statement made by the officials a fortnight ago, has emerged from the slough of deficit to a plane where, in the past six months, the road has been a paying proposition. If the matter were to be decided according to the sentiment expressed at the meeting last week, the hand-forged franchise offered by the company as a substitute for the present instrument would be turned down cold, as Aldermen Healy and Milne are the only members who openly favor the change desired by the company.

BOYS' HAND CUT OFF.

When He Was Knocked Off Car and Under a Wheel.

Rutland, July 17.—Edward Fields, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fields of Pleasant street, West Rutland, had his right hand severed at the wrist yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, when he fell beneath a box car which was being pulled from the siding at the Albion mill by a Clarendon and Pittsford engine.

The lad, who was playing on the Vermont Marble company's dock, with a number of other youngsters, saw the cars when they began to move from the dock and jumped onto a flat car which was partly loaded with marble. As that car jerked forward he lost his balance and fell beneath a locomotive which his right hand lay across the rail. The car completely severed the hand.

Dr. C. B. Warren was called and dressed the injuries after which the child was removed to the Proctor hospital by automobile. He was resting comfortably last evening.
